

I find instant traffic and weather greatly helpful both on the road and at home. My husband is a truck driver and it makes a big difference in his day to be able to find out conditions where he is at the minute he needs it. I think XM is doing a wonderful job improving their services with the subscription dollars we spend each month.